

Plant's Seafood 100 Kicks Off Oxford Doubleheader Weekend

August 5, 2026 — Oxford, Maine — Officials with Oxford Plains Speedway (OPS) announced today that Plant's Seafood has joined the speedway to sponsor the Plant's Seafood 100 on August 8, 2026. As a part of weekly points series competition, the Mid-Coast Excavation Super Late Models (SLM) will participate in their second 100-lap event of the points-paying season.

With only three races remaining in the SLM season, this will be one of the most important races of the year, as point leader Mike "The King" Rowe looks to fend off the challengers. Saturday's event is also an Oxford 250 provisional qualifier, meaning an expanded field is anticipated.

Plant's Seafood is a wholesale/retail seafood market with two locations at 201 High St., Bath, Maine and 24 State Rd., W. Bath, Maine. As a family-owned and operated business since 1900, Plant's Seafood serves the freshest seafood from the pristine waters of Casco Bay, Maine! With fair prices and fast service, Plant's Seafood guarantees top quality seafood seven days a week. Be sure to also check out their fresh chowder which placed first in the 9th and 10th annual Bath Heritage Days Chowderfest.

At age 76, Mike Rowe leads the weekly series points standings by a scant nine points over Brandon Barker after 13 races. The Plant's Seafood 100 is one of three races left on the weekly racing series schedule. Evan Roy sits third in the standings only 18 points behind. With 120 points per race available to the winner, it truly is anyone's title to win. Brandon Varney, Tom Abele Jr, and reigning champion Scott MacDaniel are all within striking distance if the top three falter.

Plant's Seafood Night begins this Saturday night, August 8, with a post time of 6:00 p.m. for seven divisions of high-octane Oxford Championship Series racing. The event is the first leg of a weekend doubleheader with the Tune-Up to the 250 on Sunday, August 9. Sunday's action features the Pro All Stars Series (PASS) Super Late Models, Kennebec Equipment Rental PASS Modifieds, a 50-lap KHM Thunder Stock Special, and a Fan Meet and Greet.
