

PASS 400 Weekend is once again set to host a $5,000 to win Street Stock Open event! This year's format will be as follows:

- The feature will be two 50-lap segments.
- The winner will be the driver with lowest number of points after the second segment with points being distributed as one point to the winner, plus one point for each position after that. For example, the car finishing in 20th spot in segment one will receive 20 points.
- If there is a tie, the better overall position will be awarded to the driver who had the better finish in segment two.
- The field will be fully inverted for the second segment. Cars that lose five or more laps in the first segment will not be eligible for inversion.

The race will be a four-tire race with teams being required to start the feature on the four tires they qualify on. Any Mad Bomber/Slingshot legal cars that want to compete in the event will be allowed to change two tires between segments. Cars eligible for a tire change must be Mad Bomber legal with the exception of eight-inch wheels, a five-inch spoiler, and additional sway bar adjustability allowed.
